Fix - The issue with Como discount amounts not being calculated correctly has been fixed.

New Feature: There is a new way to configure, apply and visualize discounts in Alice POS. Instead of a single box for each item in which the user manually sets a percentage, more advanced discounts can be pre-programmed and applied in a few clicks. The discounts can be a cumulative or compounded percentage of the retail price or a fixed amount reduction. They can be applied to a single line or the entire invoice, they can even be combined. It is still possible to set a manual fixed amount or percentage value. All applied discount have their own item line in the invoice so it's easy to see them. A comprehensive report has been created so managers can quickly see all the applied discounts with different filters and view modes.
